

ISH HOME RULE BILL IS JAMMED THROUGH COMMONS

er Listless Debate Motion to Reject Is Defeated by Vote of 183 to 52.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Irish Home Rule Bill passed the House of Commons on its third reading, late last night. After a motion for rejection was proposed by William C. Dawson, Opposition leader, had a defeat by 183 to 52.

The measure passed without any noteworthy incident in a rather tame debate. The Liberal and Labor members who have boycotted it through most of its stages as a sign of their opposition to the hopelessness of the movement of the Irish Home Rule Bill, again absent to-day. The bill was reached in a listless gathering of members in the House.

Mr. Asquith appealed to the House to be taken of the measure. The Armistice Day, which was put to rest, was a day of rest, and the House was closed.

The Premier contended that it was equally impossible to allow Ireland to have a home rule which was quite necessary for her national life and could not be used for the peril of Great Britain and her own destruction. He argued that it was fruitless to talk of granting fiscal autonomy to people still demanding a republic.

LAST DAY: TO-MORROW ENDS THIS SALE OF BABY GRAND PIANOS

$835

And Two Whole Years To Pay

Which means the very last chance to buy at this price! Here's how we made it possible to offer the price at all—to get so large a number of these apartment size grand pianos—to get them at so low a sale price: We gave our order long in advance—paid in advance—had them made for us—brought here before the Christmas rush. They've come right from one of the very best known piano manufacturers—the quality, the tone and workmanship will tell you that. But—in cutting the price—we promised not to mention the maker's name.

APARTMENT SIZE: TO FIT IN AN AVERAGE ROOM

Just four feet ten in length—hardly larger than an upright piano—but with the deep tonal quality—the sweet resonance of tone—the graceful beauty of a grand piano. Built with supreme care in workmanship and selection of materials—to achieve the tone of the grand piano in an unusually small space. Thirty-five of them in the sale—an extraordinary number of grand pianos on one floor at one time—but with Christmas only seven weeks off—with the price only $835—and the size just right for an apartment house room—what is thirty-five? Better come to-night to hear it! Sale ends to-morrow evening—stroke of nine. Then the price goes up to normal—if any of the pianos are left.
